AUGUST DATES SET FOR REUNION OF RINGGOLDS

Survivors of Famous Civil War Calvary to Gather in Charleroi

PLANS NOW UNDER WAY

Parade, as Usual, to be Leading Feature---Committees to be Named Soon

Dates of August 20 and 21 have been selected for the forty-first annual reunion of the Ringgold Battalion to be held in Charleroi and preparations are being gotten under way to make the event the best in the history of the command. Samuel Crawford, president of the reunion association, is at the head of arrangements. Other officers are: Vice president, Hopkins Moffitt, of East Pike Run township; secretary, Lawrence B. Frye of Charleroi; treasurer, Norman C. Brown, of Charleroi. The last named two are members of a local comittee named at the instance of Mr. Crawford.

Business men and citizens will be asked to assist in arranging for the reunion. At their next meeting the Charleroi Business Men's Association will take up the matter and committees will be appointed then.

One of the features proposed for this year is a big parade of school children and veterans. Automobiles will be used in conveying the veterans. A parade is annually a feature of the Ringgold reunion.

Plans for decorating the town and for entertaining veterans will be outlined later. A committee of women will be appointed to look after the matter of providing refreshments.

Last year the reunion of the Ringgolds was held at Monessen. There were 95 members of the command present then. Since that time a number died. As usual this year, veterans of the Civil war who served with other commands will be invited to participate with the Ringgolds in the festivites incident to the reunion.

BUSY THERE THIS WEEK

At the meeting of the board of trustees of Washington and Jefferson college Tuesday, Dr. James D. Moffat, the retiring president made his final report as president. He called the attention of the board to the debt of $56,000 against the college, which must be wiped out in the next year in order to make available certain large gifts. The death of Judge Kennedy made four deaths in the board of trustees during the last year, the others being Judge J. F. Taylor of Washington; Judge James A. Beaver of BelleFonte, and Judge J. S. Young of Pittsburg.

Tuesday afternoon and evening was given over to class reunions. The formal commencement exercises were held this morning.

BOY DROWNS WHILE FRIEND LOOKS ON

Ellsworth Colored Youth Goes in Wading and Gets Beyond Depth---Foreign Lad Sees Him Drown But Keeps News to Himself

While a small foreign boy looked on, Daniel Proctor, colored aged 13 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Proctor of Ellsworth, drowned in Pigeon creek shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. News of the drowning was not spread until 5 o'clock. The body was recovered at 6 o'clock and brought to the surface by Ray Hartman and Richard Mays.

The Proctor lad with the foreign had been to the office of the Ellsworth Collieries company to see his father, who is janitor. While returning home he decided to go wading and disrobed. He got out too far and could not swim. The foreign boy returned home and did not tell of the tragedy until Mrs. Proctor asked him where her son was. He told her that he had gone into the creek. She sent her daughter to the creek where the lad's clothes were found on the bank.

Ray Hartman, who was about to board a train for Bentleyville, saw the searchers at the creek and asked what was wrong. When told he stripped and dived. He was joined by Richard Mays and they soon found the body.

Valley League Game Changes Effected---Charleroi Has One Home Game

The baseball world will again take on life at the Page A. A. ball park, at Monessen this evening when Fayette City and Monessen will play a game that was booked for Tuesday evening in the Monongahela valley league. Dunlevy will journey to Roscoe this evening where the two teams will meet in deadly combat for the honors in a twilight game.

Tomarrow events in the league will be a game postponed from tonight between Charleroi and Belle Vernon. The Belle Vernon fans are of the opinion that if their local team should by some means be able to win Charleroi would sink into oblivion, to be spoken of as one of the lost tribes. The local boys feel that they can charge upon the Belle Vernon braves and take their scalps without a single casuality.

Saturday afternoon there will be something doing for all the teams of the league. Six teams will go onto the field all confident of victory and three teams will march home conquerors, while three teams will return home with the score against them, but not discouraged, determined to do better next time. The schedule for Saturday is as follows: Dunlevy at Charleroi; Monessen at Belle Vernon and Fayette City at Roscoe.

Notice.

Sealed proposals will be received by John M. Hill secretary of the school district of the Borough of Charleroi until Monday evening July 6 at 7 o'clock for the furnishing of paper goods, pencils and supplies for the schools for year 1914-1915.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

For years there has been a general demand and increasing one too that our schools and colleges as well as our universities should give a broader education to the young men and women—an education which will fit them for the active duties in life, or at least prepare them in such a way that they can use what education they have to make them bread winners, says the Washington Observer.

When it is realized that a very small percentage of the boys and girls and especially the boys, even go through the high school, and a still smaller percentage get the advantage of a college education, it is very evident that our schools ought to give more attention to vocational training.

The commissions of the Federal government on national aid to vocational training in a recent report said that this kind of education to train the worker is the greatest need of our country today because upon it depends our national prosperity. The commissions recommended that the national government give a minimum appropriation of $1,000,000 a year to the state for vocational education.

The report says among other things:

"There are more than 25,000,000 persons 18 years of age and over in this country engaged in farming, mining, manufacturing and mechanical pursuits, trade and transportation." says the report. "If we assume that a system of vocational education, pursued through the years of the past, would have increased the wage-earning capacity of each of these to the extent of 10 cents per day, this would make an increase in wages for the group of $2,500,000 per day or $750,000,000 per year.

"Our national prosperity is at stake. Each year shows a less percentage of our people on the farms and a greater in the city. Our factory population is growing apace. Our future as a nation will depend more and more on the success of our industrial life, as well as upon the volume and quality of our agricultural products."

An indication of the popularity of practical and scientific training is shown in the fact that in Pennsylvania our own State college had 1,000 students enrolled in the agricultural course this year where less than 20 years ago not a single student was given an education along this line.

It must be apparent to every one that we are going to have not only more farmers in the future but better farmers and consequently better farms.

The establishment of schools of journalism within the past few years is another sign that the men who in the future will edit and publish the newspapers of this country will be more efficiently trained and through these schools the opportunity is being given to more and more of our young men to learn things which will be of practical benefit to them and society.

The time is now past when expert training is only needed in the professions of law, medicine and the ministry.

ADMISSIONS MADE

It is a significant fact that none of the opposition has anything of consequence to say derogatory to Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, the Republican candidate for governor. They all admit he is a good man, and then whale away at the party he represents or at persons with whom he is supposed to be associated.

It is a pretty fine compliment for a candidate to be admitted a good man by the opposition at a time of such political stress as there is now in Pennsylvania. Dr. Brumbaugh is paid yet another compliment when it is stated that he is not a politician.

For gubernatorial timber, there isn't the least doubt in the minds of men acquainted with this stalwart, honest, intellectual Republican, but that he is the very strongest Dr. Brumbaugh is fitted for the place if anybody in this state is. His experience alone is a qualification.

So far as Republican principles are concerned, people are beginning to see the value of them, after experience with principles of another kind. The rejuvenated, wholesome idea of Republicanism has made friends for the party, and, moreover, has attracted them from other parties. Confidence is not misplaced. The Republican party is the party of prosperity. Tests have proven it.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"Say, I don't quite understand what's the matter. My wife bought me a dandy bath robe the other day, and I only used it once. It faded until it was a dirty hue." A man spoke thusly to an acquaintance up street the other night. His acquaintance betokened an immediate interest, and asked questions to bring out the story.

"She presented me with the bath robe last Thursday," said the worried one. "I had no occasion to use it until Saturday.

"On Saturday I took my weekly bath in the thing. Of course it was inconvenient but a good bath robe shouldn't fade like that. Do you think so?"

His friend grinned, then deemed it necessary to take a walk around the corner for a laugh.

With a ball team traveling on a through pullman train one night was a country boy who was being tried out as a pitcher. It was his first ride in a berth, according to Charles M. O'Day, scout for Detroit, who has been spending some time in Charleroi.

"Naturally enough," says O'Day "the old-timers in the car fixed it so he would get an upper berth over a car wheel. The 'youngster' watched the porter dubiously as he was preparing the berth but when it was ready he crawled in, though it was only 8.30.

"Some of the old-timers were enjoying a card game in the car. One of them motioned toward the berth where the 'youngster' was vainly endeavoring to sleep. Presently one of them spoke.

"'That was bad about Lajoie getting killed,' he remarked.

"There was silence for a moment, then another spoke.

"'It surely was,' he said 'I didn't hear full particulars. How did it occur?'

"'You didn't hear! Why he was smothered when an upper closed in on him.'

"Spread out like a frog, the 'youngster' landed on the floor. Those old-timers roared, but they had to give him a lower to get him back into bed that night."

Redpath-Brockway Chautauqua Provides Sacred Programs.

No Admission Charged and No Tickets Sold, but an Offering Is Taken to Partially Defray Expense.

A certain amount of anxiety has been expressed in some places as to the nature of the Chautauqua exercises on Sunday.

The management wants to set every mind at rest by the statement that every musical company on the list of talent has been especially trained on a carefully selected sacred program and every speaker will give an address appropriate to the day.

No admission will be charged and no tickets sold, but an offering will be taken to partially meet the expense.

The management believes in the "keeping of the Sabbath day" and none need fear that its sense of fitness will be ignored.

HARD TO RUN DOWN

HUNTERS FOLLOW MOUNTAIN SHEEP THREE DAYS.

Finally Corner Two, Believed to Be the Only Specimens Alive in Captivity—Their Jumping Powers Marvelous.

Columbia gardens, Butte's pleasure park, has added to its zoological department two mountain sheep, believed to be the only specimens in captivity. The mountain sheep are the wisest, wariest and wildest animals that inhabit the cragged ranges, and few of this species have been captured alive.

An interesting story is told of the capture for it was not done in a day. For three days and three nights, without sleep and with rests that were but sporadic, N. H. Pearl and W. J. Cavanaugh trailed their quarry. This was the end of a three weeks' chase. At last they caught these wildest of wild things. They are rams, little more than two weeks old, yet able to outrun the average horse.

The men carried the kicking, squirming, fighting lambs 20 miles over ridge and through valley to Midvale, the eastern entrance to the Glacier national park. Mr. Pearl says:

"The sheep were caught in the continental divide near Cutbank pass, at an elevation of between 8,000 and 9,000 feet. They were about a week old, I think. We had been at it three weeks before we had our chance. These mountain sheep are much wiser than mountain goats.

"They know every rock in the hills, and the slightest disturbance sends them bounding off. Many times have we looked at a band of sheep at long distance through field glasses. We would lie perfectly still behind rocks, but never was it more than a few minutes until some ewe would spy us and give warning.

"The little sheep can outrun a horse almost at birth, and these two led us a long and hard chase. They jumped off places so high we thought they had surely been killed, upon ledges where a man could not have stood.

"We never really caught up with them. Finally, seeming to realize that we would not be shaken off, they lost their cunning and we caught them in a trap in a cleft in the rocks. They couldn't get out of this place and we had them."

"You have no idea from what heights a mountain goat can leap," said Ranger Cavanaugh. "I've seen them jump from the dizziest places and alight with all four feet bunched as light as a cat. Never have I seen one injured. These Big Horn sheep are the greatest leapers in the world."

Activities of Women.

Women outnumber the men by 1,918 in New York city, according to the last census.

The French parliament has rejected the bill granting the franchise to women.

The success of the Wellesley rowing crew is due to the fact that they didn't eat fudge or dance.

Among the Malays the choice of picking the wife does not belong to the youth, but to his parents.

In England there are 300,000 women who are earning less than 12 shillings a week.

The giant electric plant at Chattanooga, Tenn., was set in motion by the Misses Annie and Jane Brady, granddaughters of the late Anthony Brady, who was at the head of the company when it was organized.

Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, professor of physiological chemistry at the University of Pennsylvania, says that today the use of alcoholic beverages by women is so common as to provoke comment, and is to be seen everywhere in public places.

Miss Anna Sands operates and manages a dog farm on Long Island, where canine pets are boarded and cared for at a stipulated charge per month. In addition Miss Sands has now established a school for birds in which they are trained for the stage.

Gold in the Philippines.

Rich placer gold is reported to have been discovered on the site of the old church in the Borrio of Malaguit in Paracale, Philippines. The vein is supposed to be directly beneath the building and in the surrounding grounds. Recently prospectors from a dredging company entered the old town and located rich gold fields on the old church property in the center of the town. Gold in paying quantities was found in the rear of the church lot. Under the provisions of the mining laws the property comes under the claims of the dredging company. An offer has been made by the company to purchase all the buildings, remove the church and all residences to a convenient site, build a new city and give the old town a new lease of life. Just what the outcome of the offer will be cannot be even guessed at, as there is a wild flurry in that locality, especially among those who have lived for years on the ground and have never for a minute dreamed of gold in abundance beneath their residence.

Always Work for Him.

"And what do you do in the dull season?" we asked the Fool Killer.

"What dull season?" exclaimed the Fool Killer.

"Why, when the Man Who Rocks the Boat and the Man Who Didn't Know It Was Loaded quit operations. What do you do then?"

"Oh, I get on the trail of the Man Who Knows It All," replied the Fool Killer.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Charleroi Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Charleroi citizen.

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "One of the family had weak kidneys caused by hard work, together with severe colds. He was in poor health for some time. His chief trouble was from his back. There was a dull, dragging pain across his kidneys, that made it hard for him to get up or down and he was annoyed by the kidney secretions. We saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got a box. In a few days he was feeling much better and he continued until the attack disappeared. Doan's Kidney Pills made a cure and we are glad to recommend them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Ray recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TALKS OF BRUMBAUGH FOR PRESIDENT IN 1916

Detroit Superintendent of Schools Predicts That He Will Be Next Republican Candidate.

Pittsburgh, June 20.—More than one enthusiastic admirer of Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, Republican candidate for Governor, has been heard to shout "Governor in 1914. President in 1916." This cry is being taken up beyond the borders of his own state now, and the following editorial from the Gazette-Times of yesterday is pregnant with optimism:

Charles E. Chadsey, superintendent of the public schools of Detroit, is quoted as saying:

I predict that two schoolmasters will be pitted against each other for the presidency in 1916, Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh, superintendent of schools of Philadelphia, and just nominated for governor of Pennsylvania on the Republican ticket, and President Woodrow Wilson, on the Democratic ticket.—Mr. Brumbaugh will sweep Pennsylvania for governor and his election will make a national figure of a campaign orator to whom even William J. Bryan must bow his crest. Brumbaugh is a man of large vision, standing for the highest things in life. He is a natural orator of the first rank. Underlying his oratory is rare good judgment and common sense.

That is looking far ahead, it is true, and traveling fast, but Superintendent Chadsey has touched upon one point which Pennsylvania Republicans will do well to keep in mind. The great political battle of 1914 is right here in our own state. No matter what its outcome, the result is destined to have an important influence upon the national situation. President Wilson himself has made the issue, and the Democrats are immensely interested. Colonel Roosevelt is shortly to have his say, and the Progressives are deeply concerned. The Republicans, with Dr. Brumbaugh to lead them, are confident of restored numbers and of victory in November, and their party colleagues everywhere are looking on sympathetically. Hence there is no mistaking the significance of the contest.

Accordingly if Dr. Brumbaugh shall prove to be all that friends like Professor Chadsey say he is, as a campaign orator and man of vision, standing for what is highest and best in life, his election under existing conditions in Pennsylvania would unquestionably make him a national figure. This Detroit educator is not the first to speak in sweepingly glowing terms of our Republican nominee for governor, and the latter's acquaintances have no doubt that he will justify their estimate of him when he swings into the fight. There is a revelation awaiting the people of Pennsylvania, and if they are appreciative of merit, of superior attainments and of qualities that are distinctive they will turn to the support of Dr. Brumbaugh as a matter of local pride and with the possibility in mind that by so doing they will introduce a new and powerful personality in the larger arena of the country's politics.

Read about these conveniences that made the HOOSIER necessary to over 700,000 women.

(1) Mrs. Christine Frederick's famous "Housekeepers' Food Guide"—on the upper left door—answers the eternal problem: "What shall we have for dinner?"

(2) The Cook-book Holder on the middle upper door holds your cook-book securely when not in use. When you are cooking, simply open up the book to the proper page behind the holder. It is on a level with your eye, always clean, never in the way.

There are 40 special conveniences in the NEW HOOSIER—17 are entirely NEW.

(3) The Hoosier Metal Flour Bin holds fifty pounds. It is low and easy to fill. The sliding glass front enables you to clean the entire bin easily. The inside is entirely of metal, with no corners to hold flour. First flour in is always out first.

(4) The New Shaker Flour Sifter is the most wonderful of all the new Hoosier inventions It is the only flour sifter ever made on a kitchen cabinet that shakes flour through instead of grinding it through. It cannot wear out and cannot grind through any grit or foreign substance that might be in the flour.

OUR WINDOW DISPLAY is the talk of the town—come and see it.

(5) A new feature in the Base Cupboard is a narrow shelf conveniently located for the storage of canned articles. Most women will find this a great convenience as an "emergency shelf." It will save many trips to the cellar or pantry.
